A Lewis County store is celebrating its grand opening.

McFly Outdoors held a grand opening celebration this weekend, and is taking the summer to make some big changes.

Store owners said they're closing the restaurant inside the store.

They said they want to offer more options to their customers and can use the space.

That old kitchen area has undergone a big change.

"We've transformed this area into our new footwear room. We're really expanding that area of our business and introducing some new brands," said Kate McWhorter, of McFly Outdoors.

McWhorter said they're also making upgrades to the building, including a new firearms room, and finally adding air conditioning.
